

Dr. Manmohan Singh Bengaluru City University
Workshop on Sociological Approaches and Skill Development
Date: 13-01-2026.

The Department of Studies and Research in Sociology organised a one day workshop on Sociological Approaches and Skill Development on 13-01-2026.

The chief guest prof Anand Inbanathan former professor of Sociology, Institute for Social Economic Change (ISEC), inaugurated the workshop and Prof Rajesh.R. , Bangalore University presided over the programme.

The chairperson of the Department Prof Nirmala M, Academic coordinator of Dr. MSBCU Dr.Thandav Gowda and Prof M.P. Nagendra, Government Arts College were present on the occasion.

Prof. Inbanathan spoke about Research methods and Techniques to be adopted by the students and to update their skills according to the demand of the society. He also stressed on enhancing writing skills among students so that their thoughts and ideas can be examined in best and can be published in various platforms.

Prof Rajesh.R. specifically focused on how Sociological writings and publications skill can be developed among students from scratch to advanced level. He also opined that the students can be agents of social change, rather than looking for jobs after their graduation they can become social entrepreneurs. This will be possible only when students acquire multiple skills and knowledge in various fields, he added.

The students of Department of Studies and Research in Sociology of Dr. MSBCU, students from Government Arts College and Maharani Cluster University participated and gained insights from various technical sessions held in the workshop